

Make a Beauty Box for Beach

Beauty on the beach can be as guaranteed and colorful if you highlight your beach accessories with a beach beauty box. It's easy to make and ideal for carrying rollers and pins for quick after-sun pin-ups, and make-up supplies to accentuate your mid-summer tan.

All you need is an empty cigar box, a piece of tissue paper, and a roll of colorful adhesive covering. You might choose a bright yellow to match a yellow-flowered suit. Or a red and white checked pattern to complement a white bathing suit. To make your beach beauty box:

Choose a cigar box in good condition. Remove any loose papers clinging to the box. Select a roll of Marvlon adhesive covering in a solid color or pattern.

Partially unroll the Marvlon, backing side up, on a flat surface. Cut a piece large enough to cover the entire outside of the box. Peel off the backing and apply. Make cuts at the corners and fold adhesive smoothly over sides and lid. Line the box with a matching or contrasting covering cut to size.

Glue mirror to the inside of the lid, using a liquid cement. For additional glamour, trim the box with cutouts of a contrasting color. Just draw or trace on the backing of the adhesive covering, cut out, peel off backing, and apply.

Bedroom Furniture Has Comfort And Eye Appeal

Ultra efficient automatic beds that embody the most advanced ideas in patient care have been selected. Beds can be adjusted automatically to any position the patient may desire and each bed is equipped with innerspring mattress. Nursing time and energy are saved by the use of these modern beds. The small nurse or attendant can easily raise or lower the heaviest patient. At the lowest point the fabric height is 18" from the floor, a convenient height for ambulatory patients that enables them to get in or out of the bed safely. The raised position brings the fabric height to 27" for easy examination or treatment of the patient.

Senator Hill praised the residents of Elba for their efforts in obtaining the Elba General Hospital. He pointed out that Elba had had good doctors in the past and that the hospital will assure Elba of having continued good medical care. He stated that he was glad that the Elba General Hospital was built under the Hill-Burton Act. (Other pictures and story next week).

Mail Service Gets Approval Via Elba

What promises to be an improvement in mail service for this area is a new mail schedule from Montgomery via Elba to Dothan, beginning Monday.

The highway postoffice bus will arrive at the Elba postoffice at 5:23 a. m. each morning. Carriers from the Elba postoffice will leave the office one hour earlier than they are leaving now.

This service is additional to the service of the past and present, and will mean faster delivery of mail to postoffices on the route from Montgomery to Dothan. This service will enable patrons of the Elba postoffice to receive their mail before going to work. More details on this later.

Indians Finish Season In First Place

When the season of the Elba Pony League pulled to a close last week, it found the Indians in first place. Indians 4, Braves 3 - 3, Giants 3 - 3, Dodgers 2 - 4. But misfortune fell on the Indians in the play-off Thursday night when they lost to the Braves 4 to 3 in the first play-off. Monday night in what most of the spectators described as the best game of the season, the Braves won over the Indians 1 to 0. Ricky Parker was the winning pitcher. He pitched a 3 hit shutout for the Braves. Robert Boydson, who was the losing pitcher, pitched a 2 hit game.

Eighty Acre Site Chosen For Elba's New Country Club

Elba's Country Club came closer to being a reality Monday when it was announced by General Chairman, Sonny Inman, that an eighty acre site had been procured at the city limits of Elba. The site location committee, headed by Doctor Bryan Taylor, screened over twenty locations near Elba and it was recently decided the Sam Taylor farm on the Coffee County Lake Road was by far the best location.

Members of the site location committee are Charlie Anderson, Ellis Brazelton, Roy King and Bryan Taylor, who report this parcel of land is potentially one of the most beautiful Country Club locations in this part of the state.

One possible location of the club house will be under large shade sycamore, oak and pecan trees fronting a paved road. The swimming pool and tennis courts will be located adjacent to the club house area and a lake will be immediately behind the club house. The lake will be used for boating, fishing, and will serve as a source of water for the nine hole golf course greens and fairways.

The site location committee completed working out final plans Monday night for financing the project. A limited number of memberships will soon be sold locally and the cost of membership will be $200 per family. The Elba Exchange Bank has agreed to finance this amount for prospective members and the loan can be paid back in 12, 18 or 24 monthly installments. This membership fee will be used for such expenses as land purchase, club house, swimming pool, tennis courts, clubhouse, etc.

This club will be a credit to our fine town, supplying clean, wholesome recreational areas for our young and old alike. Our entire community will be proud of this new facility and it warrants the wholehearted support, influence and membership of all civic minded people in and around Elba.

The recent completion of our new hospital along with the Country Club will make our town more attractive to new business and industry. Let us all work together for a better community and a "Greater Elba."

ELBA SENIOR CITIZEN, CUTS RIBBON IN CEREMONY - Weather conditions prevented the ribbon cutting ceremony to take place as planned. Because of the rain it was necessary for the many who came to go inside the hospital when arriving instead of following the dedication program on the platform in front of the hospital. But the official ribbon-cutting took place anyway just as the speech began. Many interested persons visited the hospital after the dedication and until late afternoon. Pictured is Mrs. J. M. Kimmy, Mrs. Garrett, W. B. (Bill) Pierce, hospital administrator, and Sonny Inman.

Good Bus Drivers A Major Concern To Any School System

Coffee Fortunate In Good Bus Drivers In Spite Of Poor Pay

Transportation of school children is a major concern in any school system. It concerns many families and is of interest to all parents to want their children transported in a wholesome atmosphere and in safety.

Coffee County is fortunate in securing good bus drivers in spite of not too modern busses and poor pay. The board hopes to be able to give a substantial raise for the drivers this school year.

The general public can aid this major project by safe the courteous driving while the busses are on the road. Parents can be a great help by cooperating with the driver in the behavior of their children while riding and seeing.

OUR NATIONAL PHANTOM When the Supreme Court handed down its decision the jeked up his crack Air Bom Division and moved into Little Rock over night. With bayonets fixed - ready to fight. "These children's rights you can not deny. They are going to school at Central High."

Adolph Hitler, in his strongest hour Never once dreamed of having so much power. Any time the President takes a notion. He can blow us all into the middle of the ocean.

The courts keep saying - one way or the other How we must treat our "colored brother" But its never once been mentioned or related How the farmer has always been segregated. Just because of his occupation - He is denied his share of the wealth of the nation. Of course the specialist wouldn't do any harm - They know agriculture - but not how to farm!

Thirty per cent of his earnings go for charity, He sells his products for seventy per cent of parity. The farm program has stretched him and stretched him to suit their plan. Until they have made him a flexible man.

Its not for love of his color that makes King shout and holler. Its for prestige and the all-mighty dollar! If he loved his race there is one thing for sure He wouldn't want to mix it - he'd want to keep it pure. You can go to any colored woman's wash place in the nation And prove she doesn't believe in integration. She believes "every bird after its own feather!" She doesn't wash her white clothes and colors together!

Before we started this fight on integration The U. S. was considered a first class nation. We were tops among the world powers. We didn't have to buy friendships - Other nations sought ours.

There will be an important meeting real soon - Kennedy and Khrushchev - about the man in the moon. Kennedy will say he is elected, of course. Khrushchev will say, no, he took it by force. But, I can tell them one thing, if they only knew it, God gave us this earth and told us to subdue it!

Dear Jane

DEAR JANE: I have a good wife, but the trouble is she is too good for her own good. She is always spending the night with some neighbor who has a sick child, or with some wife whose husband is out of town, or she must run errands for this one or that one, or she must take the children in her neighborhood to school (too cold for the poor dears to walk), and we must shift for ourselves, even cooking our own meals most of the time. She is truly the Good Samaritan to others, but there is such neglect at home that great tension has arisen. Am I wrong in expecting a little more of her time and talents? — NEGLECTED

DEAR NEGLECTED: Tell home, and the needs of her own household are her primary duty. Then if she has time on her hands, she can help her neighbors.

DEAR JANE: I am 30 and am in love with a boy 18. Although I am 12 years older than he, yet he vows that he loves me. I have a good position and am able to give him many nice things. I am paying on a car for him, and I buy most of his clothes. From time to time he borrows small sums of money from me, which he never repays, since he can't keep a job. He declares that he loves me, even if I could not give him all these things. But I'm beginning to wonder. Do you think he may be staying with me for what he can get from me? — SKEPTICAL

DEAR SKEPTICAL: Why not let his source of revenue and you'll soon find out.

DEAR JANE: I am 13, but I think I am too young to go on a date with a boy to a drive-in movie. She reads your column. Please tell her that she is wrong. — I'M 13 SQUARE

DEAR NO SQUARE: Some day, when you are married and have become the mother of a 13-year-old girl, you will still be too busy going around in circles in an attempt to explain to YOUR daughter why mother feels it best to forbid such a date. Until you are older, why not seek companionship and plan group activities which will meet the approval of your parents? You will find that life can be happy, after all.

DEAR JANE: I have a real problem. My wife, who is expecting our second child, is within a few months, left several weeks ago to visit her people on the west coast. She took our young son with her. Upon her leaving there was not the slightest hint of her present attitude which, stated simply, is that she does not intend to return. She says that if I want her and the children I must come to her. I have an excellent position, and it has taken me years to work up to it. If I go to her in a strange city I will have to start from nothing. I have written to her, she has called her in an attempt to get her to be reasonable, but to no avail. I love her very much; but do you think I'm being unreasonable?

In asking her to return to our home? — LONELY HUSBAND

DEAR LONELY: I think that you are right in your outlook. However, you must remember that wives sometimes express strange emotions when they are expecting. If she isn't willing to return to you before the baby is born, I think she will afterwards. Good luck.

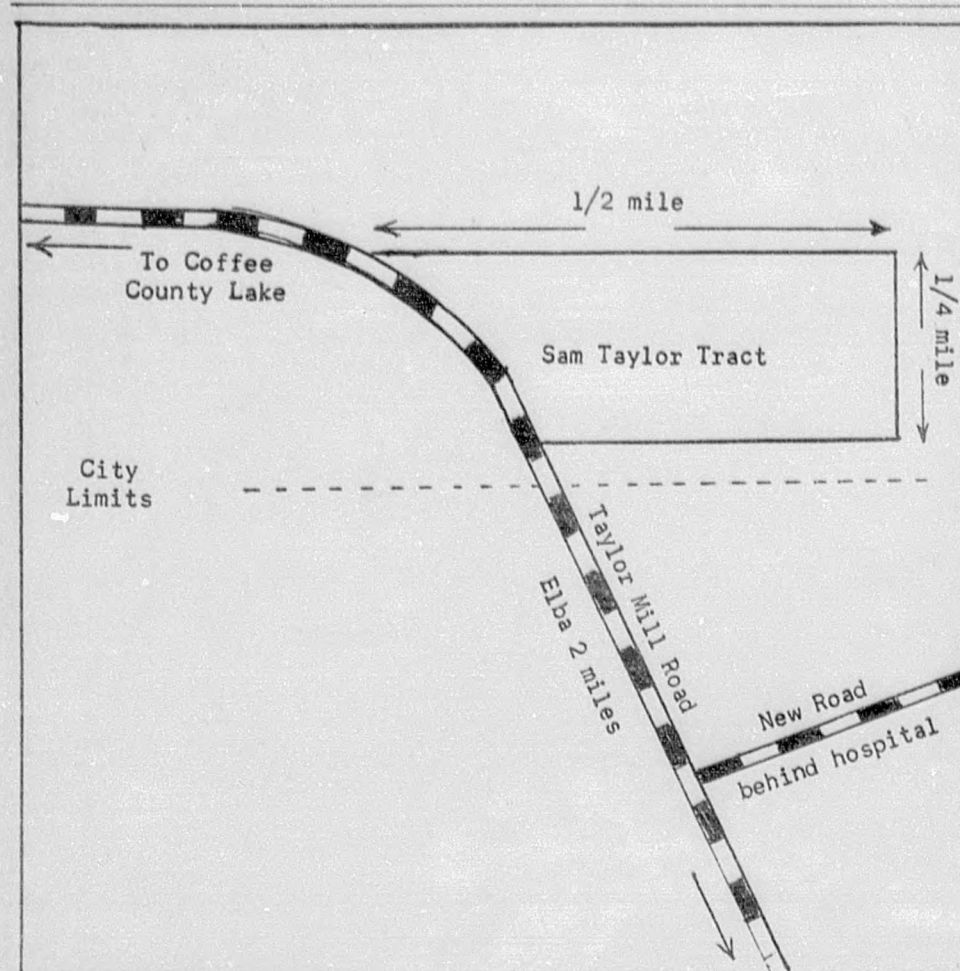

DEAR JANE: I am engaged to a girl and I love her very much. I bought her a diamond ring which cost $700. Now I have lost my job and can't keep up the payments. The jeweler has offered to let me have a smaller diamond in exchange for this one, on which I still owe $400. My girl refuses to give me the ring. I am terribly humiliated and wish more than anything that she could keep it, but I can't help what has happened. What can I do? — TEENAGER

DEAR TEENAGER: If your girl friend fully understands your predicament and yet refuses to cooperate, there may be some question whether she is in love with you or the $700 ring.

Kinston Farmers Enjoy 4-Day Education Tour Covering Four States

Accompanied By
F. W. Wood, Kinston
Vo-Ag Teacher

Eight farmers of the Kinston area along with F.W. Wood, local vocational agriculture teacher, have recently returned from a four day educational tour. The four state tour included visits to experimental stations, state docks, industrial plants, two state capitols, outstanding farms, and places of historical interest.

After group pictures were taken and a devotional by Reverend Albert Glass, the tour started at 6:30 A.M. Monday, July 29. The Kinston FFA school bus was used and with some of the seats taken out there was plenty of room for luggage, camping equipment, and passengers. The first stop was made at Jayward Company where Doctor Curtis Hutton, vice-director in charge of the West Florida Experiment Station conducted the Kinston men on an interesting tour of experimental work.

At Mobile the Alabama State Ducks were seen under the direction of a docks police officer. The docks facilities were certainly being used, as many ocean going freighters were being loaded and unloaded. A sailor from a Belgium ship gave a letter to a member of the group and asked that it be mailed to his country. The state yacht, now a patrol boat, was tied-up behind the docks Administration Building.

Many miles of the scenic gulf coast were seen in South Mississippi.

At Baton Rouge, Louisiana the group was met at the state capitol by Jimmy Dillon, former national FFA president who is now with the local Chamber of Commerce. He went with the men to see the capitol, LSU, and the Humble Oil and Refining Company.

The group crossed the Mississippi River on a ferry and many fields of sugar cane were seen in this section as well as several industries.

At Natchez, Mississippi, anti-bellum homes were seen and the group camped in a roadside park near the scenic Natchez Trace Parkway.

Visiting National Military Park was visited. A trip to Jackson included a tour of the state capitol and hand-shaking with Governor Ross Barnett.

The national champion Pole Hereford bull was seen on the Rogers Ranch at Morton, Mississippi. This bull cost Rogers $102,000. Beef cattle is a new enterprise on the ranch as broiler production is

Commenting on the reaccreditation of the program, Mr. McNulty spoke of "the unlimited opportunities for nursing service which nursing offers," and also emphasized "the increasingly important role of the state's teaching institution in helping to provide trained health personnel to the communities of Alabama."

Coffee Clubs To Show, Sell Beef Calves In 1964

4-H, FFA, and FFA Club members will be showing and selling their beef calves in Coffee County for the first time in 1964.

An all out effort is being made right now to get as many good feeder calves as possible to offer the club members at the feeder calf sale to be held at the Enterprise Livestock Auction Barn on August 14, 1963.

Assistant County Agent, Joe E. Lashley, states that nearly everyone who has been contacted seems to be really interested in this program. Lashley also states that it is going to be a concentrated effort on the part of everyone involved to make the kind of success that we would all like to see.

Many business people, parents of club members, and cattle producers have expressed their belief that a county show and sale would be very successful. Most people believe that by having a county affair, more people will have an opportunity to join in and participate.

Lashley wishes to state that he is very happy to have the help and support of all of the county Vocational-Agricultural teachers. These teachers are: Mr. J. W. Reeder, Enterprise; Mr. B.A. Johnson, New Brockton; Mr. R.S. Jones, Elba; and Mr. Fred Wood, Kinston. They have gone all out to help make this program a success.

The beef calf show and sale will be sponsored by the Coffee County Cattleman's Association in Cooperation with the business people, the Livestock Barn, Auburn University Extension Service, and the Department of Vocational Agriculture.

This show and sale will also be held in conjunction with the annual spring cattleman's sale to be announced later.

Hill Dedicates Elba's New Hospital, Lauds Medical Research

Patients Flock
To New, Modern
Med Facilities

Approximately 2,000 persons visited the Elba General Hospital on dedication Sunday afternoon in spite of the rainy weather. Because of the rain and the crowded condition inside the hospital, many visitors failed to register in the guest book.

Because of the weather the program was interrupted with the dedication program was nearly an hour late in getting started with several features of the program being eliminated because of the rain. The cutting of the ribbon preceded the dedication speech of Senator Hill. Instead of following the program as was scheduled, visitors were to enter the hospital after the speech, but because of the rain, visitors began crowding inside an hour before the program was scheduled to have started, instead of entering the building following the cutting of the ribbon as the program was to have been.

Visitors began arriving an hour before the scheduled dedication program and continued to visit the hospital several hours following the delayed program. Many predicted that except for the rain at least another thousand persons would have visited the hospital during the afternoon.

Money provided under the Hill-Burton Act totaled $262,000 with the city's share $225,000 and the state contributing $37,000.

Senator Hill pointed out that "Nothing is more important than medical research since we must find the cause for our people being made sick." He pointed out that through medical research the life span has been extended from 49 years to 70 years, and that many diseases which caused early deaths had been eliminated.

Mrs. J.M. Garrett, senior citizen of Elba, was given the honor of cutting the ribbon. Elba has four good doctors and with such a hospital as the Elba General Hospital, Elba is assured of keeping good doctors.

Elba's three doctors were joined by Doctor Bancroft Cooper last week and he is taking on a part of the heavy workload of Doctor J.M. Kimmy, Doctor C.P. Hayes and Doctor Donald H. Crook.

Elba's hospital is already as busy as it had been in operation for sometime. Monday morning over half the rooms were filled with patients; there were three new born babies in the nursery and another mother waiting.

Country Club Idea Progressing, Says Committee

The Elba Country Club Committee held its regular weekly meeting Monday night at the Community House and this proved to be one of the most outstanding meetings since this country club idea was proposed by the Elba Chamber of Commerce.

The fish pond committee reported that a survey was made of the pond site and it was determined that a ten acre pond could be constructed on the property. All plans for the pond site are being coordinated with other committees to determine the exact location of the pond. The golf course committee presented an aerial photo of the land with the proposed fairways for the golf course. The golf course will be a regular nine hole course.

The club house committee decided to build the club house on a high hill overlooking the lake. Plans are continuing as to the size, facilities, etc. There will definitely be a kitchen, lounge and dining room. A patio will be built just outside the clubhouse with a swimming pool adjoining the

This flag was presented to Mrs. Jim Larkins by the Veterans Administration at the time of her husband's death. She in turn gave it to the American Legion Post No. 42.
